

Sensl

A Cork-based tech firm, whose sensors are being used by firms developing driverless cars, has been acquired in a multimillion euro deal.

BACKGROUND

As the location would be their Irish hub, the client wanted high-class, arresting design that would attract attention and make great use of light.

Each area has its own unique specification and provides different amenities, including a canteen and workspace area for roughly 50 staff.

ABOUT THE PROJECT

M2 Office Interiors worked closely with facilities manager and contractors to deliver a quality space with bespoke finishes within a tightly controlled timescale and budget.

The timescale involved tightly phased deadlines to ensure minimum disruption to the daily duties of the company.

RESULTS

The result is an attractive, welcoming workspace combining spacious communal areas with vibrant colours in the canteen and muted tones in the workspace that lives alongside the company branding.

Sensl

“M2 Office were a pleasure to deal with. Rosemarie spent dedicated time on our office fit out/redesign from helping to choose materials and furnishings (with budget in mind), managing all the contractors required whilst meeting our incredibly tight deadline. What seemed to be a very daunting task went incredibly well. All the products were of a very high standard, and we were delighted with the outcome. I would highly recommend M2 Office for office fit outs & redesigns.”

Trudy McGrath

Sensl

CLIENT: ELEMENT SIX

SUPPLY PARTNERS: ACTIU, BISLEY & HUMANSCALE

COLLECTIONS USED

