se:living

Home feeling for the office

Everyday office life with its daily to do lists and meetings requires good planning, communication and full attention. This becomes easier in a pleasant and productive environment. The se:living sofa with matching tables do just that: they provide lightness as well as creativity, and bring cosiness into the working context. The comfortable upholstery guarantees comfort in every situation.

The se:living sofa range unites the comfort and aesthetics of a living room sofa with the functionality which is expected in modern working environments. The socket for USB or power supply, integrated in the plinth, enables convenient charging at any time and is easily and intuitively accessible.

INTUITIVE TECHNOLOGY

Stay connected

Wherever work takes place in the office, laptops, tablets and mobile phones are usually not far away. Short distances to power sockets and USB ports are extremely important. se:living has all that: charmingly concealed in the plinth or in the floor-level storage surface and corner elements, the sofa offers space for cables and thus quick access to a power supply.

In a video conference work setting, the diagonal arrangement of the sofa elements ensures that meeting participants have a good view of each other and can see the presented content at the same time. In hybrid meetings, this creates a sense of togetherness and equality.

Easy assembly of the sofa as well as easy fitting of the wiring. Cables and wires are stowed in the plinth and integrated discreetly in the floor in combination with a floor box

1. In the plinth, the power and USB ports can be placed centrally under the seat for easy access

2. The storage element is available as a starting, middle or end element and can be optionally equipped with a power supply

CONFIGURATIONS AND APPLICATIONS

Focus on individual requirements

The right configuration for every room, for every requirement and for every demand – se:living makes it possible. Whether as a single sofa, a corner unit or an island constellation, the sofa comes in many shapes and sizes. The design can be customised in terms of look as well: in one or two colours, with fabric or leather, the sofa looks both warm and inviting.

Suggested configurations

Optimal for waiting areas: the corner solution that is complemented with a planter tray

As a classic arrangement: sofa and armchair as a setting in combination with side tables

Individual solution: a corner configuration with different seat depths as well as with an open end on one side and an armrest on the other

Free arrangement: a combination of armchairs and table as a central element creates a light and airy look

According to preference: thanks to different seat depths, everyone can choose their preferred side

Statement for lounge and reception areas: the plant bench with the plant element in the middle

Seating landscape with added value: a practical and comfortable sofa constellation can be created by adding storage elements

Innovative conference areas: with the diagonal sofa elements, meeting areas can be arranged into an inviting seating configuration

se:living TABLES

A variety of companions

A sofa and table go hand in hand with one another. se:living tables offer practical storage spaces in the immediate vicinity of the seats for a flexible exchange or a coffee during the day. Whether an add-on or side table, storage or corner element, the versatile companions offer space for a mobile phone, laptop or hot drink. Optionally, many elements connected to the sofa can also be fitted with a power supply for even more convenience.

se:living add-on table

Instead of an armrest or an open end, it is also possible to have an add-on table – as an ideal storage surface for a laptop, mobile phone etc.

se:living storage element

The storage element can be configured with all starting, middle or end elements. It is used for linking and can be optionally fitted with a power supply

se:living corner element

Configurable as a table or plant element, the corner element serves as a practical storage space or for creating a green area

se:living side tables

The free-standing side tables stand out with their minimalist look and delicate design. They are available in three different versions to match the sofa configuration and make the setting complete

The special feature of the side table is its 12-mm thin visible edge

VARIATION AND DIVERSITY

A statement in every room

With a wide range of modular units, se:living offers numerous configuration options. Additionally, we offer a portfolio of leathers and fabrics that can be used to customise the sofa to match the look and feel of any environment. The clear lines and design make se:living look robust yet harmonious for every occasion.

Upholstery and cushions

All upholstery and cushions are available from a wide range of fabric, leather and imitation leather collections in the Sedus portfolio. This creates a large number of diverse and individual combination possibilities. Furthermore: armrest and backrest can be upholstered in different colours and in a mix of materials

Plinth, storage elements, corner elements

You can choose between the coatings in black grey (RAL 7021) or light grey (RAL 7044) as well as natural oak. When the storage element or corner table are combined with the sofa elements, they come in the same colour as the plinth
